

Chapter 2

Negative Forces Impeding Our Evolution

You may be familiar with the information this chapter spells out; if so, see it as a review. But if this information is new to you, it's understandable if it reads like conspiracy theory; it can certainly initially sound that way.

Yet I encourage you to continue reading. It may help you to understand the deeper reasons for the events that are now occurring across the planet – and also why you have had to work so hard to fully awaken to who you are as a multidimensional Being of Light. It may at times even help to simply keep you sane. Indeed, it explains why all humans have suffered so greatly during all the millennia they have been living in the Third Dimension.

What you will discover in the information presented here is that there has in fact been a global conspiracy that dates far back in history created by a small elite group of people on the planet. The power of these people is currently greatly diminishing, now that the frequency of the Earth and humanity is rapidly rising. But it's important to understand that these people have committed monumental crimes against humanity throughout history in order to consistently stay in power and hoard the wealth on the planet. And that, behind them, giving them their power, are hostile non-human sources hidden in the lower Fourth Dimension.

What I present is but a brief overview of the information as it pertains to the general purpose of this book. But if you wish to research the subject yourself, you can find there are numerous and varied sources both in books and on the internet that further explain and document the information. In the End Notes at the conclusion of this chapter, you will find a great many sources to get you started. My book, Triumph of the Light, is also an in-depth exploration of the whole subject.

However far you go in your own research, hopefully you will achieve a deeper understanding of what has occurred on this planet for thousands of years. At that point, you will be able to decide for yourself what makes sense and feels accurate to you.

World Leaders and the Deep State

Let's start by looking at the world leaders and those people in power behind the scenes on the planet today. As you are probably aware, most politicians do not seem to have humanity's best interests in mind. They have taken information – and often "their marching orders” – from corrupt heads of Big Pharma, Big Tech, Big Finance, and certain aspects of the military and three-letter agencies – groups of people often referred to as the Cabal or the Deep State. A number of these powerful people making decisions that affect the world are unelected and hold no accountability for what they do. And yet, those elected in our governmental bodies have created mandates based on intentionally false information given to them from these nefarious sources.

Even more chilling is the fact that these political leaders and members of the Cabal are, in turn, controlled by even more powerful people behind the scenes. Called the Illuminati or the Shadow Controllers, these people are part of the super-wealthy elitist families on the planet, including those who are members of the royal bloodline families, those pulling the strings from within the global financial structures, and those who rule from deep within the Vatican.

These people not only control the wealth on the planet but have also infiltrated all of our social institutions and religions, the mainstream media, social media platforms, the entertainment industry, health institutions, global politics, the militaries of the world, and most all educational systems. They are the ones who have throughout history created wars, and then financed both sides. For many years, they have poisoned our air, food, water and soil and controlled our weather, creating droughts, floods and hurricanes. They have started huge, devastating fires. They have exercised mind control on various parts of the population, arranged numerous assassinations, and committed egregious crimes, especially in regard to children. They were responsible for causing 9/11 and Fukushima.

In addition, they conduct thriving businesses in human and drug trafficking. They have held back advanced healing technologies from the public for many decades, including what have been called “medbeds” which could give incredible healing to alleviate all diseases humanity suffers from. They have used advanced AI technology to negatively impact and control people’s minds. Over and over again, they have been responsible for creating the huge crises that occur in the world – and then offering the solutions to them which have served to greatly increase their profits and further tighten their control over humanity.

This has never been so obvious as it is now. If you have really gone down the proverbial rabbit hole about the covid pandemic, and have especially learned about the so-called “vaccines” against this disease, you have likely learned from numerous renowned scientists and doctors not only about the lab origin of the virus, but also about how lethal the vaccines have been to many thousands of people. You don’t have to dig far to discover the huge numbers of deaths the vaccines have caused, as well as the monumental numbers of serious injuries and illnesses they have caused across the planet. Nor does it take much digging to learn of the massive profits the manufacturers of the vaccines have made over the past couple of years.

In addition, you may have read or heard about the plans certain world leaders who are part of the World Economic Forum have for depopulating the world. There are speeches you can hear online in which they are very open about this and how their plans have been working, most lately through the vaccines. It can be terrifying to hear these speeches, so blatant in what they reveal, and how smug the people giving them are in pulling off what they have.

Manipulation through Humanitarian Ideals

Perhaps you also understand that the agenda of these people has created suffering in multiple other ways, as well, such as through turning certain groups of people against other groups in order to weaken them both. You may realize that they've managed to create scenarios in which certain groups would be ostracized and ridiculed – all in the name of encouraging us to do the "right" thing for society, the "good" thing for our fellow humans. They are expert in knowing how to manipulate and program us to not only turn against each other, but to also create guilt in us for being "selfish".

They are especially masterful in encouraging us to follow humanitarian ideals we can't help but want to uphold, such as doing things that are "good for the environment", "good for racial justice", "good for helping to alleviate suffering of our fellow humans", or actions that will "help feed more people". We're also encouraged to do things to "bring democratic ideals" to other populations in the world.

How can we argue against anything that sounds so good and right? Little do most people realize that these kinds of clever and manipulative campaigns only serve to tighten the Cabal's control over us.

In their insidiously effective way, through these campaigns, they somehow sell us on war in the name of creating peace. They justify the loss of humanitarian rights, freedom and truth in the name of safety and duty. And they manage to convince us that hatred, division, political correctness and judgment will bring about equality and inclusion.

Feeling Helpless against the Powers-That-Be

And yet, even in realizing this, perhaps like most people, you feel rather helpless. You have simply accepted that these corrupt leaders and controllers behind the scenes are just part of this world. We are essentially powerless to do anything about them. They've always been here, they always will be. And maybe you don't stop to realize that, after so many centuries, humanity has simply become accustomed to living in an oppressive society in which abuse is inbuilt – that we are, in effect, long-term survivors of trauma and injustice, having endured a heightened level of suffering, poverty and control for as long as anyone can remember.

And yet, even if you have realized all this, maybe you've still reasoned that all that most of us can do, really, is accept this reality as it is. Significant changes never truly happen, no matter who is elected or placed into power and no matter how many protests may occur. Corruption, abuse, control and manipulation by the powerful and wealthy elite will just always continue on – along with the wars, financial collapses and pandemics they create.

What you've maybe never really considered is just how small and ineffective you and most of humanity have been rendered by living in this world. You may have times of rage or depression when certain things occur – especially in current times, when the control of humanity has become so apparent. Perhaps you've joined protests and maybe even brought about certain small victories. But, in the end, because you have felt powerless to change anything of real significance, you've probably just gone back to trying to live your own life as well as you can.

This has been the fate of humanity for many thousands of years while living in the Third Dimension – and you have likely lived numerous lifetimes on Earth under these conditions – so, it is no wonder if they feel normal and inevitable and simply need to be lived with.

Even Darker Realities

But have you ever wondered how this relatively tiny group of humans (the proverbial "one percent") has managed to keep such a powerful hold on all the rest of humanity for so long? Why haven't more people awakened enough to see the reality of what's been going on and wrested control from such a small group of individuals?

It's important for your Ascension process to understand the answer to these questions. The answer is that there is something that is even darker and more powerful than these controlling human groups on this planet. There is a malevolent force that has existed invisibly in the lower Fourth Dimension for thousands of years, and that force has been controlling the Illuminati, the Deep State players and most of the world leaders throughout time to achieve their own negative agenda with the human race.

Again, if this information is new to you, it may understandably sound like crazy conspiracy theory – something dredged up by people who have watched too much science fiction. But, if you research the subject, you will discover that the ideas in most of these types of dark science fiction movies have been given to Hollywood writers and directors by CIA agents in secret space programs who have been behind the scenes for a number of decades. In these sci-fi movies, there is a great deal of disclosure of what is actually going on in the world that most people just dismiss, believing it to be fantasy or science fiction.

Yet that is the purpose behind these movies: to keep the information that gets leaked out by whistleblowers from within the secret space programs and by three-letter agencies from being accepted by the public as real. Because these movies are described as "science fiction", people are led to believe the existence of dark extraterrestrial forces is just fantasy.

But, in reality, there are powerful extraterrestrial beings living on and even within the planet, many of them hostile to humanity – and they have been here for eons of time. There are now multiple whistleblowers from within these secret space programs who have described this phenomenon at length. Even NASA has recently disclosed some of this information on its website. There are also a number of highly-credible people who describe physical contact they have had over the years with malevolent extraterrestrial beings.

Hostile Off-World Beings

At any rate, one piece of information a number of insider reports give is that it is known that many thousands of years ago, there were actually a great number of off-world beings who frequently visited Earth to do experiments with what they found here. And part of what they found was a developing race of human beings. Many of these visitors were highly-evolved Beings who wished to assist humanity to evolve more quickly. Others were not especially benevolent, simply curious.

And then there were those who were actually not interested in assisting humanity at all. They only wanted to do experiments that would benefit their own race and agendas. There was one extremely powerful group, in particular – sometimes referred to as the Archons – that eventually took control of the main experiments being done on the human race.

Unfortunately, although they were very highly-evolved technologically – and with AI, in particular, especially in working with DNA – they were not at all evolved spiritually. They gathered to them a number of other off-planet races here who were also hostile to humanity to assist them in their endeavors to control this human race they'd found on Earth. Some of these races have been called the Dracos, the Reptiles, the Greys, the Annunaki and the Chimera.

All of these hostile races have had one main thing in common: they've wanted the DNA they found in human beings for their own use. We humans are evidently seen by other galactic races as "royalty" within the universe, due to the fact that we have DNA given to us by 22 different races who tinkered with our DNA over the initial millennia of humanity's existence.

However, the Archons were not only not interested in helping to develop humanity's DNA to upgrade it for humanity's evolution. They also took measures to essentially deactivate 90% of humanity's DNA, in order to weaken humanity's spiritual abilities and powers. Not understanding this, scientists today have labeled this DNA "junk DNA".

In addition, the Archons also discovered they needed to produce food for themselves while on this foreign planet. And what they found was that they thrived most on the energy produced by humanity's suffering – fear, anger, anxiety, depression. They realized they needed this energy, something that has been called "loosh", in order to ensure their own survival here. Therefore, they needed to create weakness and suffering in humanity, in order to produce the food they themselves needed.

All this is especially important information if you wish to understand why humanity has suffered so dreadfully all through the millennia of existing in the Third Dimension. It explains why there seems to be no end to wars, pandemics, famines and poverty, and why we human beings have had such difficulty in knowing who we inherently are as powerful multidimensional Beings. It makes it clear why there are humans who have been seduced, bribed and blackmailed into taking advantage of humanity from positions of power in the world: There exists this even darker hidden force that has been controlling humanity through these people, our so-called "leaders" and "politicians".

Implants

One of the critical achievements these darks beings pulled off to ensure their necessary "loosh", was their creation of a variety of AI implants that they spliced into humanity's DNA. These implants were designed to not only create suffering and weakness in people, but to also impair their connection to Source. The most powerful of these was an implant they attached to the frontal lobes of the human brain on the etheric level. It is programmed to create fear, shame, guilt, self-judgment and self-doubt within a person.

Every human being since then has this implant in their brain. It has mistakenly been considered a natural part of the human blueprint and has been called the inner critic or the superego. But it is not natural to the human race. And, unfortunately, it has greatly hindered humanity's spiritual evolution throughout time. In causing inordinate pain and suffering, this implant has exacerbated the third-dimensional experience, turning it from a somewhat limited but interesting existence into something of terrible confusion and pain. If left free, humanity could have evolved out of the third-dimensional experience a long time ago.

Another mind-boggling aspect of this implant is that it has created a programmed reality for us to live in that is actually a very subtle AI simulation. Remember The Matrix? Although many of the details involved in that film are apparently not accurate, there is a great deal of truth in it that was disclosed: the reality we've been living in is indeed a simulation that has created an experience of life that has felt real, but is actually an AI program that serves to keep us trapped in a false and unempowered sense of existence.

Think about all this. Contemplate all the long years and difficult work you've had to do in trying to heal yourself and awaken to who you really are as a spiritual Being, and how you have so often been hindered and blocked. The shame and guilt, the self-doubt and dysfunction you've experienced and attempted to heal have been caused by something that is not even a part of who you naturally are. And, importantly, neither has any sense of separation from Source you've felt been natural to you – it has all been an artificial condition imposed on you.

As if this weren't enough to deal with, there is a second powerful implant that all of humanity has also carried around in the pelvic region, thanks to the Archons: one designed to weaken intimate relationships through creating sexual and emotional conflict between men and women. The implant in women causes them, to one degree or another, to automatically bond emotionally with men they are engaging in sex with. Whereas the implant in men does not have this same effect; they are able to have sex with multiple women and not feel an emotional attachment. Their heart and sexual organs are not connected in the same way women's are.

Fortunately, the effect of both these implants is beginning to fade, as the power of the Archons continues to diminish during these times of transition. At some point, both implants will eventually be totally deactivated. But until then, it is important to keep these implants and their effects in mind, so you don't overly stress about what you think you need to "fix" in yourself or in a sexual relationship you may have. Remember that there are impediments causing misunderstanding and conflict that have nothing to do with who you are.

Infiltration of Religious and Spiritual Teachings

In addition, the Archons did not stop with implants. Throughout the centuries, all religions that have sprung up within humanity have been infiltrated, as well, by the technology of these off-world beings. They have even created religions for certain vulnerable groups, distorting all ideas about who or what God is. They created the idea of original sin and hell and invented teachings that create pain, guilt, and shame, as well as division among peoples. We're all aware of the religions that teach that God will punish you if you're bad, immoral, or not suffering enough for your own imperfections. Then, when you think about all the religious wars that have occurred throughout history – and, to some extent, continue on today – it all begins to make sense.

But what may especially dismay you is learning that even many of the new age spirituality teachings have been based on distorted and incorrect information about reality, as they too have been infiltrated by the insidious interference of these beings who have attempted to suppress humanity's spiritual awakening.

This news can be very disheartening. Those of us who have been exposed to new age teachings have been fortunate, in that many of these teachings at least tend to be much more supportive and embracing of our true spiritual nature than many traditional religions on the planet. However, although we may generally learn from spiritual teachings that we are inherently divine beings, free of "original sin", there is still usually a subtext that there is something wrong with us. So often, teachings imply that, in order to evolve and become enlightened, we need to work very, very hard, probably for many lifetimes, in order to be free.

Further, there is the perfidious implication that we are somehow to blame if we suffer, because we are "creating our own reality". It becomes our fault if we don't have positive thoughts and emotions, if we can't form nurturing relationships, or if we can't find our way out of poverty. In general, there's the insinuation that we have to sacrifice and suffer, if we are to purify ourselves. There are even teachings that tell us we have to become vegetarians or vegans, or that we must be celibate or give up our wealth and basic comforts in order to become "pure".

In addition, have you ever wondered why, if you are an extension of Source, a spark of its very Essence, as most new age teachings claim, you have to constantly remind yourself of this when you're feeling depressed or afraid? Why you have to meditate and pray over and over again to get back in touch with it? These teachings generally tell us we need to do these things in order to connect with Source; somehow, because we're naturally flawed, most of us can't seem to keep ourselves fully connected to Source all the time. Again, we are to be blamed.

Then, to top it all off, you will also often find in many new age teachings the encouragement that you should only ever focus on love and light – or that "evil" doesn't actually exist. There is the assurance that, if you simply focus on only positive emotions in yourself, you will finally become enlightened or evolve into 5D reality.

This can perhaps sound and even feel good at first. But if you're like most people and you're honest, you have probably discovered that all you manage to do in trying to follow this philosophy is to stuff all negative emotions and thoughts that occur within you down into your subconscious. And then you discover, much to your chagrin and shame, that they eventually rise the surface again, often at inappropriate times. You may at that point find yourself asking the age-old question, "What's wrong with me?" It's important to realize there's nothing wrong with you when you feel disconnected from Source; your natural connection has simply been tampered with.

Controlled Reincarnation System

Perhaps you feel that because certain new age teachings have explained about reincarnation and the karmic wheel, they have helped you to at least better understand the broader view of humanity's suffering. And, indeed, these are ideas new age teachings describe quite well; they make sense of many mysteries in our lives.

However, what is generally not understood is that the Wheel of Karma is something the Archons created so that human Souls would continue on, over and over again, providing them with the "loosh" they thrive on – the energy of suffering. The reincarnation system has never been "fair" or truly helpful to humanity. It has essentially been a system that has kept human Souls recycling over and over again in ignorance, for the benefit of these beings living in the lower Fourth Dimension.

And because of this controlled reincarnation system, humans have only been able to evolve and awaken very, very slowly. It's been especially difficult, since most people have no recollection of their past lives and what they experienced or learned in them, and they've therefore tended to make the same mistakes, life after life. If reincarnation were a benevolent process, wouldn't it make sense that we would remember our past lives so we could learn what we needed to learn and get off the Wheel as quickly as possible?

In addition, what is generally not understood is that many evolved Souls have not only brought forward their own personal karma to solve in each lifetime – they have also been saddled with the unresolved karma of their ancestors. It's just part of how the system has been set up.

Blaming Humanity

What can be especially perplexing in most new age teachings is that they essentially tell us that God is all-loving and benevolent. And yet, it is never truly explained why God would then allow such traumatic suffering in people's lives to occur, or why such insidious events like the Holocaust could happen. It's never really explained why innocent people are killed in war or why suffering seems so necessary and pervasive.

Instead, these things are generally all blamed on humanity's imperfections. All we're told is there is something inherently wrong and imperfect about us as human beings. Again, we somehow have to work hard on ourselves in order to wake up, heal ourselves and overcome all our imperfections.

Of course, this doesn't mean that we are not here to evolve and continue awakening to who we are. Of course, we are here to do this – and sometimes, this entails a lot of work. This is our agreement as Souls on a path of evolution in this Universe. And, it doesn't mean that we shouldn't strive to create positive thoughts or work on our relationships or learn to create abundance in our life. Focusing on these things will definitely assist us in waking up to who we truly are and eventually help lift our frequency into fifth-dimensional consciousness.

But the point to understand is that we have generally been led to believe that our imperfections are inherently our fault, that they are part of who we are, rather than energies and patterns we have picked up while living many lifetimes in a controlled third-dimensional reality. It's to realize why it is often so hard to wake up spiritually – and how we need to have a tremendous amount of compassion and appreciation for ourselves. This controlled reality has made our evolution extremely difficult; it is not the environment that was initially designed for humanity.

So, if you are weary from trying to heal one negative pattern after another within yourself, perhaps the reason is now more clear. You have been hindered, held back, and slammed by many hidden forces throughout your sojourn on planet Earth in the Third Dimension. In essence, you have been prevented from knowing that you are already Love, you are already Light – that you don't need to change yourself in order to hold more of these qualities. You already exist as a powerful multidimensional Being – you don't need to become one. What you need to do, as you continue to heal yourself, is to shrug off all beliefs you've adopted about yourself as a being who is inherently flawed, along with any guilt or shame you feel about this.

Trust Your Own Inner Guidance

At the same time, this is not to say that all principles and teachings in the new age literature are contaminated or false. Of course, many of them contain much wisdom and beautiful guidance. They can definitely help sustain you through the worst of these transitional times. It's just important to begin truly questioning the beliefs you hold – especially those for which you've never had any personal validation. It's wise to be discerning with all the teachings you've accepted as truth just because someone put them out there as such.

Trust your heart and gut and your own experience. If a teaching doesn't truly resonate with your inner knowing, perhaps question it and put it aside for now. You may eventually go back to it, having had it confirmed somehow through your own experience. But if not, then perhaps it was a teaching that was tainted by other forces not truly interested in your spiritual awakening and freedom.

And, very importantly, keep remembering that you can overcome the dark constraints that have been put on your healing and your spiritual awakening. You can simply do this by recognizing that these constraints have been programmed into you, hindering your natural evolution and causing unnecessary physical and emotional suffering. They aren't natural to you. Realize that your whole sense of identification has been skewed by implants causing you to experience yourself primarily as a simple physical form with a mind and by cutting off your awareness of who you actually are as a magnificent and powerful Being of Light. Knowing this, you have the power to wake up to the reality of who you really are.

The Good News: They Can't Go with Us

And finally, remember: the good news is that the times of bondage are ending. The invisible malevolent forces are increasingly losing their power. The Earth and humanity are currently rising rapidly in frequency, and these hostile beings are feeling greatly threatened. They know they will not be able to continue with us as Ascension continues to occur, because they cannot raise their frequency any higher than the Fourth Dimension. In fact, at this point, many of them are already gone, leaving their Deep State human actors without leadership and without the power they once had.

For this reason, the actions of these Cabal members are now becoming extreme in their last attempts to control and destroy humanity's freedom and to create suffering and death in every way possible. They are desperately pushing back hard at this point, knowing they can't hold on much longer. It may take a while, but the darkness that has reigned on Earth for so long is finally being addressed and countered.

The Earth Alliance

Indeed, you may be aware that there have been whistleblower reports for at least a decade on alternative internet sites about a group of planetary "white hats" called the "Earth Alliance". These are sincere and passionately dedicated people in power positions in the world who have formed an alliance for the purpose of taking the Cabal down. It is reported that those in this Alliance have been focused ever since the early 1960s on gathering intelligence about the Deep State players in order to eventually make mass arrests around the world. There have been photographs online of the prison in Guantanamo Bay ("Gitmo") that show huge additions that have been constructed over the last few years, reportedly in preparation for housing those who will be arrested.

Of course, it is difficult to know how much of this disclosure information is accurate. There is so much misinformation now in all news media – in alternative sources as well as mainstream. The Cabal has very cleverly infiltrated it all. And, there has also been an inordinate amount of censorship of whistleblowers, independent journalists, doctors and scientists that has gone on, both by blocking them online and by condemning them as "conspiracy theorists" – so it can be hard to even know they exist.

Yet many of them have survived on Rumble and Bitchute, and also on other uncensored platforms and sites that use alternate languaging to avoid being blocked. So, with some determination, you can find that there have been many different sources over the years who have given intel on this Alliance and what they are accomplishing. You can't help but conclude that at least some of it must be accurate.

At any rate, there are reports as of this writing in early Fall of 2022 confirming that almost everything is in place for these arrests to finally take place. It has been said that, along with the arrests, there will be Nuremburg-type trials in different parts of the world of those who have caused for many, many decades the poverty, death, and destruction that humanity and the planet have suffered from.

Some reports tell us that these arrests will all take place during "ten days of darkness", which apparently refers to the shutdown of all internet services across the planet for a time. Also that an emergency broadcast system will be in place to inform people of what is occurring and to tell them not to panic. Many whistleblowers have cautioned people to stock up on 2-3 weeks of food and other essentials to protect them from temporary breakdowns that will likely take place in the systems that deliver these necessities.

It is said that, during the trials, much will eventually be revealed about the deaths that have been caused by the Cabal throughout the years in creating wars, pandemics and false vaccines, droughts, floods, fires and hurricanes, food shortages, and a plethora of other phenomena that have also caused humanity to experience poverty and illness. Many of the most egregious crimes to be revealed will be those that have been done against children.

Apparently, also to be revealed will be their take-over of the vast majority of the major media companies in recent decades to control the news. In addition, 9-11 will be exposed as an inside job; and widespread election fraud that has occurred for many, many decades will also come to light. Misinformation about climate change and chemtrails will further be revealed. In other words, the World Economic Forum's whole plan of major genocide of 90% of the world's population will finally be exposed to the public, and all those involved in this plan will be arrested and tried – and likely put to death.

In addition, reports have come out that, during this period, the entire global financial system, long-controlled by the Cabal, will also be shut down temporarily. During this time, a vastly different system called the Quantum Financial System will be turned on to replace it – a system that ensures the safety and privacy of all funds within it. This switch will be accompanied by huge humanitarian changes that will take place, in which great wealth will be returned to the populations of the world through a plan referred to as GESARA – the Global Economic Security and Reformation Act.

In the US, this act is known as NESARA. It is a document that was signed into law by President Clinton at the end of his term (some say at gunpoint), ordering this act to be implemented in the US on September 11, 2001. We all know what happened instead to stop this.

If all this is new to you, details can be found on the internet and by linking to references offered at the end of this chapter.

The news about events planned for the near future is very exciting to those who have been waiting impatiently many years for these arrests and trials to take place. As can be imagined, huge operations have had to take place to prepare for these arrests, and so it has taken a good deal of time and great effort for all plans to be implemented. In addition, all efforts on the part of the Cabal, such as the attempts to start nuclear wars, the sabotaging of pipelines, the creation of new pandemic scares, and attempts to further take over the financial control they already hold, have created delays and postponements of the Alliance's plans. Some have described what's been going on as an undeclared World War III.

Because of all this, many throughout the years have lost faith that the mass arrests would ever occur. However, according to some recent reports, these arrests may soon finally occur in late 2022 and early 2023. Again, it is difficult to predict, because of all the misinformation that has been fed into both the mainstream and alternative news over the years, but it may actually finally happen. It is said the whole process is "event-driven", so exact timing cannot be predicted. Still, even if things don't move as quickly as any of us might like, we can at least know that valiant efforts are being made in the right direction.

In any case, when the arrests finally do begin happening, it will be wise to be prepared. There will understandably be huge confusion, angst, and rage that will likely occur among those in the world population who have been totally blind to all that has gone on by the Deep State over the years. It will be a huge “red pill” event. Those who have had their eyes open to it all and who have already gone through their own reactions to it will be greatly needed at that time to help calm and educate the traumatized newly-awakened people.

Staying Positive

The really good news, however, will be to realize that, when all the dark forces are finally gone, huge changes will be taking place – even aside from the prosperity and humanitarian projects GESARA and NESARA will bring. There are predictions about a solar flash event that will eventually occur to clear the planet further of negative energy and assist humanity in its ascension.

There will also be the opportunity for people to start building the New Earth through creating new institutions based on love, cooperation, compassion and caring for all of humanity. New highly-advanced healing technology will be available to the public, along with other technology, such as individual units for each household that create free energy. So there is a lot of reason to stay positive and optimistic, even as we experience all the chaos and disruption that will likely continue for a while.

In addition, it’s been reported by many that benevolent and highly-evolved Galactic Beings from numerous other civilizations within the universe will begin landing here, inviting humanity to join galactic federations designed to bring greater joy and cooperation among all Beings, everywhere. There are many reports, even now, about these Galactic Beings assisting the Alliance in defeating the dark forces out in space.

It will take a while, of course, for all this to occur. But meanwhile, what you can focus on is how you can help the forces of light that are working to free humanity at this time. If nothing else, you can do your best to not fall into despair. You can be a clear and determined frequency holder of Light and maintain a powerful flame of love in your heart. You can say prayers for the Earth. You can be there for others with compassion and understanding.

All these kinds of energetic actions by individuals are powerful in helping to raise the vibration of humanity and thus determining how quickly this momentous spiritual war on Earth will be over. Keep in mind that the Earth and humanity are securely on a positive timeline now. But you can assist in making the journey as smooth and rapid as possible.

In addition, know that being conscientious in wanting to assist humanity on this momentous journey into 5D reality will assist you in shifting into 5D consciousness yourself more quickly. As you concentrate on your own healing and awakening process, you can also focus on how extremely exciting it is that you are here now during these times when humanity across the planet is in a phase of momentous awakening into freedom. What an amazing time it is to be alive!
